

Abstract Submission Instructions

- All abstracts must be submitted online. Authors will be required to register on the web site to create a user account and password. You are limited to one abstract, though you may be an author on another abstract.
- When you have registered you will need to determine if you are an invited speaker (you will have been invited by the program committee) or are submitting a proffered paper.
- To avoid delays in your submission, prepare your abstract offline, and save it as a text, Word, or WordPerfect (.txt .doc or .wdp) file before starting. You may either copy and paste or type the abstract directly into the submission site.
- Each abstract should contain: (a) an introductory sentence indicating the purpose(s) of the study; (b) a brief description of pertinent experimental procedures; (c) a summary of the new, unpublished data; (d) a statement of the conclusions.
- There is a 2000 character limit on text of the abstract (not counting spaces). This limit does not include the title, authors and institution. You may include a table, but this will count as 600 characters towards your total.
- No figures are allowed.
- Abbreviations may be used in the body of the abstract if they are defined at their first mention of the text
- Be sure your abstract is accurate before you complete the submission and make sure you retain the control number you receive upon completion.
- The regular abstract submission deadline is given on the webpage www.icrr2011.org.
